Information Age Technologies, Inc. (IAT) is a software development company located in Westmoreland County Pennsylvania. IAT began working with Area Agencies on Aging in Pennsylvania in 2001 and has extensive experience working with the state database SAMS. Per the request of Citiparks, this letter is to provide notification that Information Age Technologies, Inc. is the sole source provider of the Copilot touchscreen system which combines automated data collection of service deliveries, reporting for senior centers, area agencies on aging and electronic data transfer into the mandatory State data system (SAMS), utilized by Citiparks senior community centers.

Information Age Technologies, Inc. is the only organization of its kind with the unique technical expertise, experience, and combined knowledge of the of Pennsylvania Department of Aging's requirements and SAMS database configurations to provide these services. IAT has a strong knowledge base of SAMS configurations and reporting needs. In addition:

- ❖ IAT is the only company with a custom API hosted at Harmony
- ❖ IAT successfully imports over 5 million service delivery records to SAMS on an annual basis
- ❖ IAT has maintained support contracts with PA AAA's since February of 2001

Copilot is the only technology of its kind with the specifically combined benefit of containing an Agency Administration interface for pre-data validation, required SAMS integration and Senior Community portal. Copilot Touchscreen Systems are designed to assist senior community centers and Area Agencies on Aging in the automation of data collection of consumers receiving provided services.

We are the only organization with the proprietary technology that offers the combined benefit of services to the consumer, senior center and overseeing agency. We currently serve 301 senior centers and 37 area agencies on aging across 44 Pennsylvania Counties.
