WHEREAS, during the hottest months of the summer of 2016, Charles (Chuck) and Mary Burrow took on the task of cleaning up the long neglected West Liberty Cemetery in Beechview; and,

WHEREAS, Chuck is a is a Vietnam and Gulf War Era veteran and retired Marine having served 23 years' active duty; and,

WHEREAS, Chuck retired in May 1993 and became a resident of Pittsburgh. At present, he is the Commander of Mt. Lebanon Post 156 of the American Legion, Inc.; and,

WHEREAS, Mary is from Pittsburgh. She is a genealogist and volunteers for Find-A-Grave to locate and identify the graves of veterans, family members, and others in order to maintain record of their lives and final resting place; and,

WHEREAS, she and Chuck have visited many cemeteries in the Pittsburgh area, locating and documenting grave sites in response to requests for photos from other members of Find-A-Grave searching for relatives in this area; and,

WHEREAS, Mary does all of the computer and on-line documentation and Chuck is the chauffer, photographer and master at uncovering sunken grave markers; and,

WHEREAS, their latest project was in the little known West Liberty Cemetery in Beechview, which sits at the very end of Fallowfield Avenue; and,

WHEREAS, prior to documenting, the cemetery needed to be cleaned as it was overgrown from many years of neglect; and,

WHEREAS, in July, Chuck, Mary and a few additional volunteers began at the cemetery for a few hours at a time to work around the summer heat until it was again clean and gravesites were visible; and,

WHEREAS, assistance was also provided by James R. Jamieson, another a genealogist, who researched past cemetery records which now are being brought up to date; and,

WHEREAS, at present, flags were placed at the gravesites of 35 veterans, four firefighters, two police officers. A listing of six veterans were found without a grave marker; and,
