The City of Pittsburgh hereby finds and declares as follows:

- a) The Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW), an international human rights treaty, provides a universal definition of discrimination against women. Countries that ratify CEDAW are mandated to condemn all forms of discrimination against women and girls and to ensure equality for women and girls in the civil, political, economic, social and cultural arenas. The United Nations General Assembly adopted CEDAW in 1979 and President Carter signed the treaty on behalf of the United States in 1980, but the United States Senate has not yet ratified CEDAW.
- b) Since 1995, state and local jurisdictions passed resolutions in support of CEDAW, including Pittsburgh, which adopted a City Council Resolution in support of the ratification of CEDAW. Some cities have implemented ordinances establishing CEDAW principles as law. Since 2014, municipalities across the nation began signing onto the Cities for CEDAW Initiative. On April 6, 2011 Pittsburgh declared itself a Human Rights City, and in 2014, as part of the United States Conference of Mayors 82nd Annual Meeting, the Conference of Mayors adopted a resolution in support of the Cities for CEDAW Initiative and encouraging cities to implement the principles of the UN Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women.

- c) There is a continued need for the City of Pittsburgh to protect the human rights of women and girls by addressing discrimination, including violence, against women and girls and to implement, locally, the principles of CEDAW. There is a need to analyze the operations of City departments, policies and programs to identify discrimination in, but not limited to, employment practices, budget allocation, and the provision of direct and indirect services and, if identified, to remedy that discrimination.
- d) The City shall also create and fund a Gender Equity Commission with an Executive Director to study discrimination against all women, including intersectional discrimination and including trans women, and to identify gender equity problems in the City of Pittsburgh. And advise each department in the development of an action plan to address equity disparities identified by the Gender Analysis.
- e) The Gender Equity Commission shall work to ensure that the department developed action plans are developed and implemented, and to further identify problems and recommend solutions within the scope of CEDAW in the City of Pittsburgh. The Gender Equity Commission shall be responsible for monitoring and recommending, both positive rights, which affirm or oblige action, such as access to fair wages and human services, and negative rights, which permit or oblige inaction, such as freedom from discrimination, freedom from harassment and violence, and freedom from other adverse actions or experiences.
