WHEREAS, those of German descent began emigrating to Pittsburgh in 1683, continuing in three large waves prior to 1776 and another just after WWII to be near family who had emigrated here before the war; and WHEREAS, the Alliance of Germanic Societies of Pittsburgh will be hosting their second bi-annual German Parade in Deutschtown on Pittsburgh's North side; and WHEREAS, this year, three individuals - past and present - will be honored at the celebration of local German history at the Teutonia Männerchor for the impact and significance they have had on the Pittsburgh area; and WHEREAS, honoree Alexander Negley was an American pioneer and soldier in the Revolutionary War who established one of the first church organizations in Pittsburgh and in 1778 moved his family to what is now Highland Park making them the first European settlers in that area; and WHEREAS, while serving in the US Army in World War II, honoree Elmer J. Menhart developed a love for German culture and has served as a delegate, president, and chairperson for international and national German organizations and to this day Elmer is an active singer with the Teutonia Männerchor and Honorary Member of Bloomfield Liedertafel; and WHEREAS, honoree Christel Van Maurik was born in Wiehe, Germany, and later settled in Pittsburgh, where she served as Editor of the Teutonia News for 17 years, and acted as First Lady during the 15-year presidency of her husband, serving in an influential role in the promotion of German Choral Singing and Culture; and WHEREAS, participating in the parade as a special guest will be the Mayor of (the sister city of Saxonburg, Pa.) Mulhausen, Germany, which was also the birthplace of John Roebling who designed and built the original Smithfield Street bridge and the aqueduct in Deutschtown - as well as his masterpiece - the Brooklyn Bridge; and WHEREAS, there will be an antique German Auto display in the Allegheny Commons East in which antique Volkswagens, Porsches, Mercedes and other automobiles will be on display; and WHEREAS, the parade will proceed from the Allegheny Commons East along East Ohio Street stopping for performances outside Priory Fine Pastries, crossing the I-279 overpass, turning left at Madison Avenue and then right on Phineas Street and ending at the Teutonia Männerchor at the corner of Phineas and Chestnut Streets; and

WHEREAS, following the parade there will be a luncheon at the Teutonia Männerchor, a celebration that will include a performance by the Teutonia Männerchor mens' chorus and recognition of local German history;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh once again thanks all of the German immigrants for their industry, skills and good citizenship; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Council of the City of Pittsburgh does hereby honor Elmer J. Menhart, Christel Van Maurik, and the late Alexander Negley, and all the organizations and individuals involved in the parade and celebration and does hereby declare Saturday, September 10, 2011, as “German Heritage Parade Day,” in the City of Pittsburgh.
