WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh has outstanding employees working everyday to make the City a better place to live and do business; and

WHEREAS, Pittsburgh is consistently ranked as one of the most livable cities in the United States; and

WHEREAS, City officials and philanthropic foundations are pursuing efforts to make Pittsburgh more family-friendly; and

WHEREAS, the federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) is currently the only option for City Employees to take time away from their jobs when welcoming a new child; and

WHEREAS, Family and Medical Leave Act leave is unpaid; and

WHEREAS, a U.S. Department of Labor survey found that 78% of those who are eligible for FMLA are unable to forgo pay in order to take leave; and

WHEREAS, the City of Pittsburgh must offer competitive benefits to retain the best and brightest workforce, in order to continue the highest level of service to Pittsburgh's citizens; and

WHEREAS, a survey of 200 human resources managers found that two thirds believed that family friendly policies were the most important factor in talent retention; and

WHEREAS, family friendly policies increase the likelihood that new parents will come back to work after welcoming a new child, saving the City replacement costs, such as hiring and training, which can be between 25% and 200% of an employee's annual salary; and

WHEREAS, family leave is linked with short-term benefits like shorter hospital stays and better health for mother and child, and long-term benefits like higher educational attainment, lower teen pregnancy rates, higher IQ scores, and higher earnings in adulthood.
